

1986 944 Sale

Posted by that1dudeaaron - 11 Apr 2013 09:00

First time on the site so just a heads up I'm not the best computer guy. Ive had this 944 since 2006 and I've put multiple parts in the car. Car is still stock and in my book is considered a project car. Last week the clutch blew up on me and this will be the second clutch if I swap it out. Another 700$ job plus a day and a half of my labor. Just prior to the Clutch dying I replaced both Engine mounts. Not sure what to do now... Half of me wants to sell the car, the other half wants me to buy new everything and rebuild it on credit and try to sell to a buyer who wants a turn-key porsche. Looking for advice, inspiration, or offers on the car. Frame is straight and original.
